Drawnudes.io is a website that utilizes artificial intelligence to undress images online. It is a platform designed for users over the age of 18 and requires users to have permission to use any photos that feature other individuals, especially ensuring that no persons under the age of 18 are involved. The website emphasizes that users are solely responsible for the images they generate with the website's tools.

The website boasts a neural network that represents a breakthrough in AI technology, offering a free service to nudify images. Drawnudes.io has apps available for both iOS and Android devices, ensuring accessibility for a wide range of users.